BREASTING THE BILLOWS.—Four boys went out on the Ohio yesterday afternoon for a skill ride. After they hay floated to their hearts' content in tranquil serenity on the Ohio placifity, a steamboat hove in the feliops of the party at once became as buoyant as the boat, not to say boisterous as the steamer. They concluded to boldly ride out and breast the billows from the stern-wheeler, nount so to speak, on the bounding waves which were turned off from the paddles. They do not be seamed in the following testimonials but the defendant had not absented himself the state of the discipline. If there was wrong at all in the conduct of the department of the same error of judgment, and not say boisterous as the steamer. They concluded to boldly ride out and breast the billows from the stern-wheeler, nount so to speak, on the bounding waves which were turned off from the paddles. They did so. They sought the foaming breakers and found them.

The tidal wave struck that skiff and turned itover like a potato-bug struck hyparis green; a shriek was heard and the four boys had a roaring in their cars as if one hundred. Niagaras were pouring through their heads. They rose to the surface and commenced to splutter and blow the water out of their noses and cling to the capsized boat. Assistance would have saved them but they wouldn't have it. They all let go their hold on the keel, and turned the boat over by new holds, and then three hung on to the gould, and then three hung on to the gould. We had then there had no right to reverse the decision of the holds, and then three hung on to the gould, and then three hung on to the gould, and then three hung on to the gould. Clarke or Mr. Thompson. As it was usen after 11 o'clock, Mr. Wincher moved to adjourn, but after some little talk the motion was withdrawn and Judge Cochran proceeded with his argument. He claimed that the church discipline requires that if any member has done wrong he shall be visited and labored with by the pastor previous to any charges being unde. The committee had found the defendant guilty of saying that Rev. Griffith had pulled up his coadrails and over-rid the church," yet he was found not guilty of making misrepresentations in stating the same. Therefore according to the result of the trial in the lower court, what defendant had said about his pastor must be true! The charges and specifications were all as indefinite and vague as the one just cited. If Dr. McCop had been guilty of selling soda-water on Sunday, it was the duty of his pastor to visit and admonish him to sin no more.

The accused was directed to withdraw.
